Add your cell phone and other numbers where you want to be found.

Note: If you put your cell number here, it will show when I hover over your name in HUD. HUD only shows people in your department.

The screenshot shows the FONALITY web interface with the 'Features' tab selected. A yellow notification box states: "Note: You do not have a mobile number specified! Click here to add your mobile number." Below this, the 'Call Forwarding / FindMe® Settings' section is visible. It contains three radio button options: 'Do not forward my calls?' (selected), 'Forward my calls to a single number?', and 'FindMe® with Boomerang® Mobile Integration?'. A dropdown menu shows '20' seconds for calls to extension 2808. A note at the bottom states: "Note: These settings also apply when you have FindMe enabled, but the call is not routing via FindMe because of schedule, HUD status, etc." An orange callout box on the right says "Select FindMe with Boomerang." A red arrow points to the 'Features' tab, and a red arc highlights the 'FindMe with Boomerang' option.

Select FindMe with Boomerang.

Red arrows point from external text to: 1) the 'FindMe using a schedule?' radio button, 2) the 'And then:' dropdown in step #2, 3) the 'forward to my voicemail' dropdown in step #3, and 4) the '20' and '15' second values in steps #1 and #2 respectively.

Where should it look for you?

This means the voice mail at the number they dialed.

With these times, my caller would hear the phone ring for 35 seconds before it goes to voice mail. That's a long time. You might want to adjust that.
