

Exploring ACEs, Trauma Informed Teaching Practices, and Arts Integration Learning Techniques

ACEs, or Adverse Childhood Experience scores, impact students in every classroom. In this interactive workshop, explore the knowledge, insight, and techniques necessary for approaching youth with high ACEs and trauma-embedded behaviors. Participants will navigate the neurological science behind behaviors youth express and explore how to reshape approaches to address those behaviors. Learn or revisit how to integrate art into your toolbox to problem solve behaviors and communicate with students in new, more meaningful ways.
